General Comment

Folks, The Proposed Rule, as written, will restrict or eliminate options trading in my IRA account. As usual, this is not the stated intent of the rule but that won't help me at all if this is adopted. I have taken the time to learn the risks of option trading and found it to give me access to cheap insurance and a safe small income when used judiciously. I don't use options to make leveraged bets.

Please don't treat me like a child and assume you know what is best for me.
